

General Terms and Conditions of ICTWaarborg – B2B

Version January 2016

These General Terms and Conditions govern the legal relationship between the Contractor and its Clients. The General Terms and Conditions have been divided into different modules focusing on the various forms of service provision offered by the Contractor.

They consist of the following modules:

Module A. General	3
Module D. Hardware	11
Module E. Telecom	12

Where a specific module applies, it prevails over the General Module. To the extent the general section does not contravene the applicable provisions stipulated in the specific modules, the general section will always apply. The definitions of the terms written with a capital letter apply to all modules.

Definitions

In these General Terms and Conditions, the terms below have the following meanings:

Module A. General

Article A.1. Quotation, offer and acceptance

- A.1.1 A quotation drawn up by the Contractor is without obligation and will be valid for 14 days after the date on which it was sent by the Contractor, unless stated otherwise in the quotation.
- A.1.2 The Client should preferably accept the quotation in Writing, but if the Client accepts or creates the impression that it has accepted it by other means, the Contractor may consider the quotation as accepted.
- A.1.3 The Client's provisions or terms and conditions that differ from, or do not appear in, these General Terms and Conditions will only be binding for the Contractor if, and to the extent that, these have been explicitly accepted by the Contractor in Writing.
- A.1.4 Without prejudice to the power of the Contractor to withdraw the quotation in accordance with Article A.1.1., the Agreement may only be changed after acceptance with the consent of both parties. In the event of a conflict between the provisions in the documents below, the following order of precedence applies:
 - 1. the Agreement;
 - 2. any appendices, apart from brochures;
 - 3. these General Terms and Conditions;
 - 4. any additional conditions, apart from brochures.

Article A.2. Implementation of the Project & provision of information

- A.2.1 Following conclusion of the Agreement, the Client will carry out the Project as soon as possible, in accordance with the offer, taking into account any reasonable wishes of the Contractor.

The Contractor will endeavour to carry out the Project to the best of its ability, exercising due care and professionalism. The Client is obliged to enable the Project to be implemented correctly and in a timely manner. In particular, the Client shall ensure that all information, which the Contractor has stated to be required or with regard to which the Client can reasonably understand that it is required for the implementation of the Project, is made available to the Contractor in time. The necessary commitment on the part of the Client should be of adequate quality and timely. This applies both to the support provided by the contact persons and to the planned deployment of Project staff on the Project activities.

- A.2.2 If the Client fails to do the above, the Contractor is entitled to charge extra costs and it is possible that the Project will overrun. Any delay to the Project caused by the Client is reported via the Project Management System or, if no project management system is being used for the Project, by email, or, in the absence of functioning email correspondence, by another means in Writing. If this situation arises, the Contractor will inform the Client of any extra costs to be charged.

Article A.3. Term, termination and dissolution

- A.3.1 The Agreement will be deemed as having been terminated if the services stipulated in it have been provided by both parties.
- A.3.2 Contrary to Article 3.1, agreements for services are tacitly extended on a monthly basis after the end of the term. Such agreements are terminated in Writing.
- A.3.3 The delivery dates given by the Contractor are always an indication only. In the event of an agreed final delivery date, the Contractor will first be in default after the Client has declared it to be in default in Writing, subject to the mandatory situations prescribed by law in which default occurs by operation of law.
- A.3.4 If the Client fails to perform any obligation to which it is subject under the Agreement, the Contractor has the right to suspend performance of all agreements concluded with the Client concerned, without requiring notice of default or judicial intervention, and without prejudice to the Contractor's right to compensation, loss of profit and interest, unless such non-fulfilment is of minor significance.

- A.3.5 The Contractor has the power to dissolve or suspend the Agreement in full or in part with immediate effect, without judicial intervention, in Writing and without any obligation to pay compensation or grant indemnification, if:
 - the Client has not fulfilled the obligations stipulated in the Agreement in full, adequately or on time;
 - after having concluded the agreement, the Contractor learns of circumstances that provide every reason to fear that the Client will not fulfil its obligations;
 - when concluding the Agreement, the Client has been requested to provide security in order to fulfil its obligations under this Agreement, and such security has not been forthcoming or is inadequate;
 - due to delay on the Client's side, the Contractor can no longer be required to fulfil the Agreement under the terms and conditions originally agreed;
 - in the event of the death of the Client, or if an application is made for a moratorium on payments or a winding up order;
 - the Client's business is wound up;
 - the Client's activities are halted or wound up;
 - any of the client's assets are seized;
 - circumstances arise, the nature of which renders fulfilment of the Agreement impossible, or such that the Contractor cannot be reasonably required to maintain the Agreement unchanged.
- A.3.6 Any claims owed by the Client to the Contractor shall become immediately due and payable upon dissolution of the Agreement. The Contractor suspending the fulfilment of the obligations does not affect its statutory rights or any entitlements under the Agreement.
- A.3.7 If dissolution is attributable to the Client, the Contractor has the right to compensation for any damage/losses, arising either directly or indirectly as a result thereof.

Article A.4. Procedure upon termination of the Agreement

- A.4.1 Upon termination of the Agreement, the parties are mutually obliged to immediately return any property in their possession which the other party owns or is entitled to. Certain goods, such as data (and data carriers) may be erased or destroyed instead of being returned, if the entitled party has given consent to this in Writing.
- A.4.2 All data provided or entered by the Contractor remains its property at all times. The Client only receives a non-exclusive, transferable licence which is necessary to implement the Agreement.

Article A.5. Prices

- A.5.1 Prices are exclusive of sales tax (VAT) and other duties levied by the government.
- A.5.2 If a price in an offer is based on information provided by the Client and the information proves to be incorrect, the Contractor has the right to adjust the prices to reasonable prices based on the correct information, even after the Agreement has already been concluded.
- A.5.3 All prices given in the quotation are subject to typing and calculation errors.

Article A.6. Terms of payment

- A.6.1 The Contractor will send the Client an invoice for the amount payable by the Client. If the Project is delivered in phases, the Contractor is entitled to invoice at the completion of each phase, monthly or based on hours worked (at the Contractor's discretion). The payment term for invoices is within 14 days of the date of the invoice, unless agreed otherwise between the Contractor and the Client.
- A.6.2 If the Client has failed to make the full payment in good time, effective 30 days after the payment term the Client will be held in default by operation of law without requiring notice of default. If an amount owed is not paid within the payment term, 2% per month and an administrative charge of EUR 15 will be payable on the outstanding amount without requiring any further notice of default from the Contractor.
- A.6.3 In the event the Client fails to pay by the due date, the Client is obliged to pay any and all judicial and extra-judicial collection costs, including the costs of lawyers, bailiffs and debt-collection agencies, in addition to the amount payable and the relevant interest due.
- A.6.4 The amount due is payable immediately in the event the Client is put into involuntary liquidation, applies for a moratorium on payments or if the Client passes away, and also if the Client's business is wound up or dissolved.
- A.6.5 In the cases referred to above, the Contractor will also have the right to terminate or suspend implementation of the Agreement or any part thereof that has not yet been implemented without notice of default or judicial intervention being required, and without the Client being entitled to compensation.

Article A.7. Additional work

- A.7.1 If the volume of work that the Contractor has to do under this Agreement increases as a result of the Client's requirements, which the Contractor could reasonably consider to be amendments or additions to what was set out in the quotation (including a delay or overrun of the Project attributable to the Client), this constitutes additional work.
- A.7.2 If the Contractor is of the opinion that additional work is involved, it will notify the Client as soon as possible and request approval in Writing for the proposed additional work and for its offer including the delivery period.
- A.7.3 The Client will always take the decision on proposed additional work within five (5) working days. The activities to be carried out as part of the accepted additional work will be put in Writing and approved by both parties.
- A.7.4 The Client is responsible for any overrun of the delivery periods stipulated in the original quotation due to additional work.
- A.7.5 The provisions of these General Terms and Conditions apply to all additional work to be carried out by the Contractor, in so far as the parties have not agreed any other terms and conditions.

Article A.8. Liability

- A.8.1 For each event or series of related events, the Contractor's liability for direct damage/losses incurred by the Client as a result of a culpable shortcoming in the Contractor fulfilling its obligations under the Agreement, which also expressly includes any shortcoming in fulfilling a guarantee commitment agreed with the Client, or an unlawful act on the part of the Contractor, its employees or third parties engaged by the Contractor, is limited to a sum equal to the payments the Client is obliged to make under this Agreement each year (excluding VAT). Under no circumstances however will the total compensation to be paid for any direct loss or damage exceed a sum of EUR 25,000 (excluding VAT).
- A.8.2 The Contractor's total liability for damage/loss arising from death or physical injury or material damage to property will under no circumstances exceed a sum of EUR 500,000 for each event causing damage, in which case a series of related events counts as one event.

- A.8.3 The Contractor's liability for indirect loss or damage, including consequential loss, loss of profit, lost savings, corruption or loss of data (business or otherwise), and losses due to business stagnation is excluded.
- A.8.4 Except for the cases referred to in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this article, the Contractor will not be held liable for any damage/losses whatsoever, regardless of the grounds on which an action for compensation might be based. The exclusions and limitations referred to in this article cease to apply if and to the extent the damage or loss is a consequence of an intentional act or wilful recklessness on the part of the Contractor's management.
- A.8.5 The Contractor's liability for an attributable failure to perform the Agreement will only arise if the Client immediately notifies the Contractor of its default in Writing, setting a reasonable period to remedy the failure, and the Contractor continues to culpably fail to perform its obligations even after that period. The notice of default should contain a description of the failure in as much detail as possible to enable the Contractor to respond adequately.
- A.8.6 Any right to claim compensation will at all times be subject to the condition that the Client notifies the Contractor of the damage or loss in Writing within 30 days of it arising.
- A.8.7 The Client will indemnify the Contractor against all third-party claims on account of liability resulting from a defect in the Project/Service provided by the Client to a third party, and which also comprised items, Materials or Results supplied by the Contractor, subject to and to the extent that the Client proves that the losses/damage were caused by those items, Materials or Results. The Client will indemnify the Contractor against claims concerning non-compliance with licences by the Client and/or third parties (including Users) that fall under the Client's responsibility.
- A.8.8 Contractor liability for shortcomings in the products and Services of third parties, including software, is expressly ruled out.

Article A.9. Failures and Force Majeure

- A.9.1 Neither party may be bound to perform any obligation if a circumstance beyond the parties' control that could not or should not have already been predicted when concluding the Agreement negates every reasonable opportunity to perform. The parties can only invoke Force Majeure in dealings with each other, if, as soon as possible after the occurrence of the shortcoming, the party affected informs the other party in Writing that it is invoking Force Majeure and submits the necessary documentary evidence.
- A.9.2 The circumstances envisaged in paragraph 1 could, for example, consist of: (a) failures of the Internet or other telecommunication facilities; (b) shortcomings by parties on whom the Contractor depends for providing the Services; (c) defective items, Hardware, software or Materials, which the Client has obliged the Contractor to use; (d) the non-availability of one or more staff members (due to illness or otherwise); and (e) government measures.
- A.9.3 In the event of Force Majeure, fulfilment of the obligations concerned and other associated obligations will be suspended in part or in full for the duration of such a Force Majeure situation without the parties being liable to pay each other any compensation. The parties can only invoke Force Majeure in dealings with each other, if, as soon as possible after the occurrence of the shortcoming, the party affected informs the other party in Writing that it is invoking Force Majeure and submits documentary evidence.
- A.9.4 In the event of Force Majeure, the party that has invoked Force Majeure shall endeavour to ensure that the shortcoming which is exculpated by the Force Majeure continues for as short a period as possible.
- A.9.5 If a Force Majeure situation has lasted for thirty (30) days, or as soon as it is certain that the Force Majeure situation will continue for more than three months, each party has the right to terminate the Agreement in Writing, unless the nature or scope of the shortcoming would not justify premature termination. In such an event, that which has already been performed under the Agreement shall be paid for on a proportional basis without the parties owing each other anything else.

Article A.10. Intellectual property rights

- A.10.1 The Contractor or its licensors hold all intellectual property rights to all of the Materials developed or made available within the context of the Project.
- A.10.2 The Client will acquire the exclusive user rights and powers explicitly assigned in Writing under these General Terms and Conditions, the Agreement or otherwise, and in all other respects the Client will not reproduce or publish the software, Services or other Materials.
- A.10.3 The Client is not permitted to remove or modify any markings relating to copyrights, trademarks, trade names or other intellectual property rights from the Materials, including markings relating to the confidential nature and secrecy of the Materials.
- A.10.4 The Contractor is permitted to take technical measures to protect the Materials, for example with passwords or encryption. If the Contractor has used technical measures to protect the Materials, the Client is not permitted to remove or circumvent the relevant protection.
- A.10.5 Any use, reproduction, or publication of the Materials falling outside the scope of the Agreement or the rights of use granted will infringe the intellectual property of the Contractor or its licensors.
- A.10.6 The Client will pay the Contractor a penalty of EUR 5,000 due and payable immediately for each act of infringement and EUR 25,000 for each deliberate act of infringement, without prejudice to the Contractor's right to receive compensation for the damage/losses it incurs as a result of the infringement or to allow other legal action to be taken for the purpose of terminating the infringement and/or recovering the damage/losses. After the elapse of one working day after the Contractor has informed the Client of an infringement, a penalty of EUR 5,000 will also be payable by the Client for each day that the infringement has not been brought to an end.

Article A.11. Processing personal details

- A.11.1 If, in performing the Services, the Contractor is to process personal data for which the Client is responsible, under Section 14 of the Data Protection Act, the Contractor and the Client are required to assume obligations in respect of the data processed by the Contractor for the purpose of safeguarding the technical and organisational protection measures pertaining to the data to be processed. In the absence of a separately agreed, detailed 'data processor's agreement' the provisions set out in this Section apply as obligations within the meaning of the Personal Data Protection Act.
- A.11.2 The Contractor will ensure an appropriate level of security considering the risks involved in processing the data to be protected and the nature of the data.
- A.11.3 The Contractor also guarantees that all persons acting under its authority, insofar as they have access to personal data for which the Client is the controller, will only process such data on the Client's instructions.
- A.11.4 The Client guarantees that it will enter personal data or otherwise make it available to the Contractor only in a manner that is fully compliant with the law.
- A.11.5 If the Client is required by a legal obligation, for example pursuant to the Personal Data Protection Act, to adjust, delete or hand over data stored in the Contractor's systems, the Contractor will facilitate this activity to the best possible extent. The costs for the relevant activities may be invoiced separately.
- A.11.6 The Client, as the controller within the meaning of the Personal Data Protection Act, is at all times responsible for reporting a security leak and / or the leaking of data (by which is meant: a security breach of personal data that leads to a risk of adverse effects, or has negative consequences for the protection of personal data) to the relevant parties and/or the relevant regulatory authority(ies). In order to enable the Client to comply with this legal obligation, the Contractor shall inform the Client within a reasonable period of the security leak and / or the leaking of data involving personal data of controller.
- A.11.7 The duty to report includes in any event the duty to report the fact that a leak has occurred, including details regarding:
 - the (suspected) cause of the leak;
 - the (currently known and/or anticipated) consequences thereof, and
 - the (proposed) solution.

Article A.12. Confidentiality

- A.12.1 The Parties will treat the information they provide each other before, during or after the performance of this Agreement as confidential, if such information has been marked as confidential or if the recipient party is aware or should reasonably assume that the information is intended to be confidential. The Parties will also impose this obligation on their employees as well as on any third parties they have engaged to perform the Agreement.
- A.12.2 The Contractor will not access the information stored by the Client and/or distributed via the Contractor's Services unless this is required for the proper performance of the Agreement or for the quality of the Projects, or if the Contractor is obliged to do so pursuant to a legal provision or an injunction. In that case, the Contractor will undertake to limit access to the information as far as possible, to the extent that this is within its power.
- A.12.3 This obligation remains in force after termination of the Agreement irrespective of the reason, and for as long as the party providing the information can reasonably claim that the information is confidential.

Artikel A.13. Amandments to the General Terms and Conditions

- A.13.1 In the case of a continuing performance agreement, the Contractor reserves the right to amend or supplement the General Terms and Conditions and all Modules contained therein.
- A.13.2 Amendments also apply to agreements already concluded with due observance of a term of 30 days following publication of the amendment on Contractor's Website or by electronic communication. Minor changes can be implemented at any time.
- A.13.3 If the Client does not wish to accept an amendment to these General Terms and Conditions, until the date on which the new terms and conditions enter into force the Client may terminate the Agreement, effective from that date, or on the date of receipt of the notice to terminate the Agreement if that is after the date on which the amendment takes effect.

Article A.14. Settlement of disputes

- A.14.1 The Agreement, as well as any agreements and other legal acts arising from it or related to it, are exclusively governed by Dutch law.
- A.14.2 All disputes, including those which are only deemed by one party to be a dispute, which arise from or are connected with this Agreement and its implementation and/or with other agreements ensuing from or related to this Agreement will be settled through the mediation offered by ICTWaarborg (hereinafter referred to in this article as Mediation).
- A.14.3 The parties undertake to cooperate with each other on settling disputes through Mediation and commit themselves to each bearing half of the Mediation costs.
- A.14.4 Mediation comprises two phases. In the first phase the parties seek a possible solution with which they can both agree. If agreement can be reached, the mediator will put that which has been agreed into a settlement agreement. If it proves impossible to reach an agreement that is acceptable to both parties in the first phase, the process will go into a second phase. In the second phase the mediator will work out an agreement that is binding upon both parties and then set this out in a settlement agreement.

Article A.15. Concluding provisions - General Module

- A.15.1 If any provisions in this Agreement are declared null and void, the validity of the Agreement as a whole shall remain unaffected. In such case, for the purpose of replacing any such provisions the Parties will stipulate a new provision or new provisions reflecting the purport of the original Agreement and the General Terms and Conditions as far as possible on a legal basis.
- A.15.2 If disputes arise from this Agreement which cannot be settled through the settlement arrangements, they will be brought before the competent court in Amsterdam.
- A.15.3 Information and notices on the Contractor's Website may be subject to errors.
- A.15.4 The version of any communications received or stored by the Contractor (including log files) shall be regarded as authentic, subject to proof to the contrary to be produced by the Client.
- A.15.5 For the purpose of promoting its services, the Contractor has the right to show third parties which Projects it provides the Client, unless reasonable interests on the Client's part render this unacceptable or it has been agreed otherwise in Writing.
- A.15.6 The Contractor has the right at all times to engage third parties in performing the Agreement.
- A.15.7 The Contractor and the Client may transfer their rights and obligations under the Agreement to third parties, provided the other party consents to the transfer in Writing beforehand.

Module D. Hardware

This Module applies to Contractors who supply Hardware to Clients.

Article D.1. Delivery and ownership

- D.1.1 Hardware is delivered to the Client when it is delivered to the delivery address specified by the Client in the order and the delivery is accepted by the Client.
- D.1.2 As far as is reasonably possible at that point in time, the Client is obliged to check the Hardware for Defects.
- D.1.3 Ownership of the Hardware passes from the Contractor (or its suppliers) to the Client at the time of delivery to the delivery address specified by the Client but only if the Client has paid for the Hardware in full.

Article D.2. Guarantee

- D.2.1 The Contractor guarantees the operation of the supplied Hardware in accordance with the specifications notified to the Client in advance for 1 year after delivery, and is accountable to the Client for this.
- D.2.2 If the manufacturers of the supplied Hardware have specific guarantee schemes which are longer than that given by the Contractor, they remain valid and the Contractor remains responsible for dealing correctly with the Hardware covered by those guarantees.
- D.2.3 The guarantees given by the Contractor and manufacturers does not affect the statutory guarantee period applicable to Hardware.
- D.2.4 The guarantee on Hardware lapses in the event of unauthorised modification, failure to follow the instructions for use or other careless use of the Hardware by the Client.
- D.2.5 If the Client makes use of the guarantee within the set periods and within the rules, the Contractor will endeavour to arrange for the Hardware to be repaired or replaced as soon as possible, but no later than 30 days after receipt in the proper manner of the returned Hardware.
- D.2.6 The Client is not liable for the loss of data resulting from the repair or replacement of Hardware.

Article D.3. Returns

- D.3.1 If the Client makes use of the guarantee, it will return the supplied Hardware and all accessories to the Contractor in their original condition at the time of delivery as far as possible.
- D.3.2 If there are costs associated with returns under the guarantee, they are payable by the Client.

Module E. Telecom

This Module applies to Contractors who provide telephony services over a computer network and related services such as (X)DSL and VOIP.

Article E.1. Execution

- E.1.1 Following conclusion of the Agreement, the Contractor will perform the Service as soon as possible, in accordance with the offer, taking into account any reasonable wishes of the Client.
- E.1.2 Contractor may, if desired and for a fee, deliver equipment for the purpose of using the Service. Client shall at all times remain responsible for the equipment as well as its configuration.
- E.1.3 The Client is not permitted to sublease the Service referred to in this Module or otherwise to make it available to third parties, without permission in Writing from the Contractor.

Article E.2. Term of the Agreement

- E.2.1 The Agreement is entered into by the Client for a minimum term of twelve (12) months. After that the Agreement is tacitly extended for twelve (12) months each time until notice of termination is given.
- E.2.2 The Client may give notice to terminate the Agreement at the end of the period, subject to at least one (1) month's notice. A three-month notice period applies to the Contractor.
- E.2.3 Notice to terminate the Agreement given by either the Client or the Contractor must be given in Writing.

Article E.3. Provision of services and availability

- E.3.1 All of the Contractor's Services will be performed on the basis of a best-efforts obligation, unless and to the extent that the Contractor has pledged an explicit result in the Agreement and the relevant result has also been adequately described.
- E.3.2 The Contractor provides no guarantee of the exact amount of availability unless otherwise agreed in the offer by means of a Service Level Agreement (SLA). To the extent not provided for otherwise in an applicable SLA, the provisions of this article apply.
- E.3.3 Subject to proof of the contrary, the availability and service levels measured by the Contractor will serve as complete proof.
- E.3.4 The Contractor will undertake to ensure that the Client can make use of the networks that are either directly or indirectly connected to the Contractor's network. Legal and contractual conditions may be attached to use of networks by third parties. The Contractor will undertake to inform the Client of this in good time.
- E.3.5 The availability and quality of the Service is partly dependent on certain external factors, such as the Client's Internet connection, if, for example, a VOIP service is purchased. The Contractor should follow the Client's guidelines with respect to these external factors.

Article E.4. Maintenance

- E.4.1 The Contractor has the right to take the Services or parts thereof temporarily out of operation for the purpose of maintenance, adjustment or improvement. The Contractor will endeavour to ensure that as far as possible any such period of inactivity only takes place outside office hours, and will undertake to inform the Client in good time of the scheduling of periods of inactivity. However, the Contractor is never obliged to pay compensation for any damage/loss arising from taking the Services out of operation for the above purposes unless expressly agreed otherwise in Writing, for instance in an SLA.
- E.4.2 The Contractor is only obliged to have an alternative centre or other alternative facilities at its disposal if expressly agreed in Writing.
- E.4.3 The Contractor is entitled to modify the operation and technical specifications of the Service at any time in the interest of the continuation of the Service. The Contractor will inform the Client of these changes in good time, unless such is not reasonably possible. The Contractor is not liable for the damage/loss arising from these changes.

Article E.5. Usage and costs

- E.5.1 The Client will use the Service properly. If agreed, the Contractor is entitled to charge the Client for excessive use of the Service.
- E.5.2 The Contractor may set a maximum number of call minutes that the Client may use per month as part of the Service. In the event this maximum is exceeded, the Contractor is entitled to apply additional charges/consumption charges in accordance with the amounts charged for extra call minutes set out in the quotation.
- E.5.3 The Client will be charged separately for extra call minutes or extra costs associated with the Service which will be itemised.
- E.5.4 If Contractor has not imposed a maximum limit on the amount of call minutes that the Client may use each month as part of the Service, a 'Fair Use Policy' applies. In that case, a reasonable amount of call minutes, based on the on the average use of all clients, will be established. In the event this amount is exceeded more than once, the Contractor shall contact the Client in order to reach a reasonable solution, such as a higher rate.
- E.5.5 The Contractor has the right to change the charges for use of the Service from time to time. Changes will be notified to the Client in Writing at least 30 days in advance. The Contractor may apply price increases of 3% or less no more than once a year in the month of January without the Client's consent. In the event of price increases of more than 3%, the Client has the right to terminate the Agreement on the date that the new prices will take effect. The Contractor will notify the Client of price changes 30 days before they take effect.

Article E.6. Number management

- E.6.1 The Client has the option to choose a new telephone number for the Service, which may or may not be tied to a geographical area, or to migrate a telephone number from an agreement with a third party.
- E.6.2 The Client will follow the Contractor's instructions as far as possible in order to keep its number. The Contractor is entitled to charge the Client a one-off fee to keep its number. The Contractor is not liable for the termination of current agreements with a third party relating to the telephone number in question.
- E.6.3 Where applicable, the Client will declare that it will only use a geographical telephone number in the geographical area for which this number is intended. The Client indemnifies the Contractor against all possible consequences of failure to comply with this.
- E.6.4 If, for the proper functioning of the Service or to comply with laws and regulations the Contractor deems this necessary, the Contractor has the right to change the Client's telephone number. The Contractor will take the Client's interest into consideration as much as possible in doing this. However, the Contractor is not obliged to pay compensation for the change.
- E.6.5 Upon termination of the Agreement, the Client loses the telephone number, unless it decides to keep the number and transfer it to a third party.

Article E.7. Personal details

- E.7.1 For the purpose of executing the Agreement personal details are processed. These personal details are necessary for the proper functioning of the Service. These personal details are not shared with third parties, unless this is necessary for the performance of the Agreement or is required by law.
- E.7.2 The Contractor will not store personal details longer than is necessary and is responsible for appropriate technical and organisational security measures to protect personal details against improper access and use.
- E.7.3 The Contractor will cooperate with requests addressed to it by competent (including government) bodies to release the Client's personal details or to allow inspection of the Client's telephone calls in realtime or otherwise.
- E.7.4 The provisions of the Articles A.11.6 and A.11.7 shall apply mutatis mutandis.
